Terms of communication for the approval of a management system according to a specific standard.

Translation of document QAS10-04 from 16.08.26

1.0 General

This document details the terms of communication, the stages of documentation and the method of monitoring management systems, performed by IQC according to ISO/IEC 17021 & ISO/IEC 17065 standards for organizations interested in receiving approval for the requirements of an international standard such as: ISO 9001, ISO 13485, ISO 14001, ISO 45001, ISO 22000, FSSC22000, ISO/IEC 27001, GLOBALGAP, organic (according to the law for regulating organic produce 2005 and the regulations of the Ministry of Agriculture) and other standards.

The rules described below are derived from the requirements of the international accreditation bodies.

2. Initial approval of a management system according to a defined standard.

The initial approval process is carried out according to a time line established by the organization and consists of the following steps:

2.1 Stage 1: As part of the initial stage 1: Evaluation of the organization's quality system including:

Defining the field of activity (scope) of the organization as it will appear on the certificate. Checking the manual and/or procedure files, compared to the requirements of the applicable standard for which the organization requested the approval.

For the organic standard an organic plan needs to be defined as in the regulations and the NOP standard.

A review of documentation from the management review and the internal audit is also submitted.

The documentation should be submitted at least one month before the audit.

2.2 Step two: Certification audit.

2.2.1 The audit will be carried out after the approval of stage one including the review of the organization's documents detailed in section 2.1and its' readiness for the audit.

2.2.2 IQC will schedule the audit with the organization and send an audit plan prior to performing the audit.

2.2.3 At the end of the audit, a report is submitted to the organization that includes all the findings of the audit.

2.3 If in the result of the audit is "requires improvement", IQC may schedule another audit within 6 months. If a return visit is required, for the actual review of the correction of the deficiencies, the date of the return visit will be coordinated with the organization. The organization will have to bear the expenses of the additional audit/visit.

If necessary and if part of the requirements of the standard, the report will be sent to the authorized body.

If the organization did not close its' non-conformities within a period of six months, a return visit will be required, for the review of the corrections of the deficiencies discovered in the audit. The date of the return visit will be coordinated with the organization. The organization will have to bear the expenses of the additional audit/visit.

If necessary and according to the requirements of the standard, a report will be sent to the authorized body.

2.4 Interim approvals - in progress approval.

One may receive an approval letter that describes the organization's status in the process of obtaining certification. This approval is limited in time and its acceptance is conditional on the organization fulfilling all its obligations until the date of issuance of the approval, including any payments.

2.5 Authorization and its validity

2.5.1 At the end of an audit and the completion of the corrective actions by the organization, the results of the audit will be submitted for approval by the certification committee.

2.5.2 A certificate will be issued to the organization after approval by the committee and compliance with all financial obligations.

2.5.3 The validity of the certificate is conditional upon the ongoing process described below.

2.5.4 Any use of the certification claim shall be strictly limited to the scope of approval granted and shall comply fully with the requirements of the applicable certification scheme. The use of the certification logo/mark shall be carried out in accordance with IQC's instructions applicable to each specific standard.

2.5.5 If the organization transfers the certificate of approval to a third party, the document shall be transferred in its entirety.

2.6 Duration of audits

The duration of the audit is determined according to the international rules that appear in IAF MD 5:2023 and in the tables in Appendices A+B+C+D. The duration of ISO 22000 audits will be determined according to ISO 22003-1. The duration of the audit to the FSSC22000 standard is determined according to FSSC 22000 V 6-Part 3 section 4.3, and in dedicated standards such as: GlobalGap - as defined in the standard, depending on the complexity of the organization.

2.7 Use of logo

The use of the logo will be according to the IQC guidelines published on the IQC website.

3. Management system approval and/or product certification of an organization that has already been approved by another certification body

3.1 An organization whose management system and/or product has already been audited and approved by another certification body, can be certified by IQC as part of a follow-up/re-certification audit. This, subject to the transfer of the material to IQC as follows: a copy of the existing certificate or approval, audit reports and corrective actions of the organization submitted to the certifying body, which includes confirmation of the closure of the corrective actions.

3.2 IQC shall take the decision on certification before any surveillance or recertification audits are initiated. After approval of the above-mentioned material, an audit can be carried out by IQC, upon completion and according to its results, the organization will be approved by IQC according to the IQC procedures described above.

4. Continuation of the process after certification.

Upon receiving the approval, the organization is obliged to continue to comply with the requirements of the management system.

During the year, the approved organizations will conduct surveillance audits as indicated in the quotation.

The first surveillance audit after certification will be scheduled within 12 months of the audit. Postponement beyond 12 months will require a new certification audit with a new certificate.

4.1 Before the certificate expires, a re-certification audit shall be performed for the purpose of renewing the validity of the certificate. Its duration and scope will be based on the performance of the management system of the organization during the certification period and in accordance with international rules.

4.2 If by the time the certificate expires there has been no recertification audit or a critical system non conformity has not been closed, it will not be possible to extend the validity of the certificate.

4.3 Major or minor non conformities can be closed up to 6 months after the certificate expires. After this date, it will be necessary to perform stage 2 of the certification audit again.

4.4 For the FSSC22000 audits, GlobalGap audits (and its addons), management of non conformities will be carried out in accordance with the requirements of the standard.

4.5 For organizations certified to standards that require unannounced audits: such as PPIS Organic - GlobalGap, FSSC22000, IMC-G.A.P, some of the audits will be unannounced in accordance with the requirements of the standard.

5. Changes in the administrative system of the organization

5.1 If, during the recording period, substantial changes occur in the organization management system, legislative situation, and organization’s processes or in aspects related to the company's standards, the organization must report this immediately to IQC.

IQC will assess their significance in relation to the standard's requirements. Minor changes in the management system, in the manual and/or procedures, will be checked by the auditor in the ongoing follow-up audit.

5.2 In addition to what is stated in section 5.1, organizations with FSSC22000 certificates, GlobalGap and its supplements are obliged to inform IQC within three business days of the following. (Cases are specified in FSSC 22000 V 6-Part 3 section 4.4.11 or in any of the following):

a. Significant changes that affect the implementation of the requirements of the standard.

b. Serious events that affect food safety or the integrity of the certificate.

c. Public health food safety events (such as public-initiated recalls, disasters, epidemics, etc.)

d. Changes in the organization: name of the organization, address and website information.

e. Changes to organization (e.g. legal, commercial, organization status or ownership) and management (e.g. key managerial, decision-making, or technical staff)

f. Major changes to the food safety management system, scope of operations and product categories covered by the certified management system (e.g. New products, new processing line, etc.)

g. Actions imposed by regulatory authorities as a result of a food safety issue(s) where additional monitoring or forced shutdown of production is required.

h. Legal proceedings, prosecutions, malpractice and negligence

i. Fraudulent activities and corruption.

5.3 In addition to the provisions of Section 5.2, organizations holding FSSC22000 certificates, GlobalG.A.P. certificates and its add-ons, or an organic permit, are required to implement the changes to the certification schemes in accordance with notice provided by IQC.

6. Appeals Committee

IQC operates an appeals committee whose role is to discuss the organization's certification results. The organization may initiate an appeal to this committee to handle his case.

Regarding organic produce: A customer who considers himself harmed by IQC's decision may appeal before the appeals committee at the Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development (PPIS) within fourteen days from the day the decision was delivered.

7. Complaints and corrective actions

An organization certified to a standard shall be required to maintain a record of all external complaints related to the relevant product or management system, and to take all necessary actions to ensure continued compliance with the standard's requirements, corrective actions taken shall be documented. In accordance with the standard's requirements, the organization shall provide IQC with access to any information necessary for the investigation of the complaint.

A customer or any other party may complain to IQC. In order to do so, he must apply in writing via "Contact" on the IQC website or via the e-mail info@iqc.co.il.

8. Cancellation / Suspension / Approval

8.1 IQC may cancel or suspend a certificate, if the holder of the certificate has not fulfilled his duties and obligations towards IQC, if the product does not meet the requirements of the standard and if the management system of the organization does not follow the requirements of the standard.

8.2 The cancellation or suspension can be as a result of the following: the organization did not complete corrective actions within the defined time, repeated non-compliance to the standard's requirements, postponement of audits beyond 14 months from a previous audit, use of the certification symbol not according to authorization, detection of pesticide residues in organic product, major violations of the standard's requirements, non-compliance with financial obligations towards IQC.

8.3 The cancellation or suspension will be for a specified period, or for an unlimited period of time and following which the organization undertakes not to continue using the certificate, approval and/or logo, and undertakes to send the certificate to IQC within 14 days, of receiving the cancellation notice.

8.4 If the organization continues to use the certificate and/or the approval symbol without permission, IQC will be entitled to claim damages in court for use without permission and report this to any relevant authorized body.

9. Maintaining confidentiality

9.1 The auditors and all IQC employees maintain the confidentiality of the information that comes to their attention, as a result of fulfilling their duties. What is stated in this section does not apply to publication regarding the existence of a certificate, its validity and the field of activity to which the certificate refers.

9.2 IQC is required by request to deliver audit reports of ISO 13485 and organic standards to relevant legislative bodies, and will inform the customer of this request.

9.4 Information on the status of FSSC22000 certificates is available on the FSSC website and portal. The certified organization allows the CB and the foundation FSSC to share information regarding their certification status with external parties.

9.5 Certified organizations will allow IQC auditors (including the accreditation bodies and regulatory bodies) access to their physical sites, facilities and any organizational information to verify continued compliance with the requirements of the relevant standards.

9.6 Information Sharing for Certification and Oversight Purposes

The Client acknowledges and agrees that, in accordance with the requirements of the FSSC 22000 Scheme, the Certification Body may share information relating to the organization, the audit process, and audit findings with the Accreditation Body, GFSI, Global ACI, competent governmental or regulatory authorities, and any other entity authorized to receive such information under the applicable Scheme requirements.

The Client further agrees that such information may be entered into, stored, processed, and maintained within FSSC information and oversight systems, including the FSSC Assurance Platform.

Any sharing of information shall be limited to the extent necessary and shall be carried out in accordance with the applicable Scheme requirements, legal obligations, and the confidentiality commitments binding upon the parties.

10. Payments

10.1 All payments that IQC collects are in NIS and do not include VAT.

10.2 Payments in foreign currency will be calculated in NIS according to the high rate of exchange.

10.3 In case of cancellation or postponement of a audit date scheduled with the organization, within less than 10 working days' notice, the customer will be charged 50% of the cost of the postponed or canceled audit.

10.4 The customer will be charged a fee for unannounced audits. The organization is required to notify IQC in advance of the dates on which it is not possible to perform an unannounced audit and this is in accordance with the number of days allowed in each standard. Preventing an unannounced audit may lead to the cancellation of the certificate.

10.5 An organization that does not meet the payment conditions in the quotation, will be required to transfer payment for upcoming audits 7 days before the audit.

11. Schedules

The auditors at IQC are committed to schedule as follows: (maximum schedule) Documentation review - up to 15 working days, stage 1 audit coordination - up to 4 weeks from the date of the organization's request, setting a date for the certification audit (phase two) according to the organization's readiness and up to 3 months from the stage 1 audit.

12. Signing the quotation constitutes a contract with IQC, consent to what is stated in this document and acceptance of the conditions detailed therein.

13. Termination of engagement

13.1 By written notice to the other party.

13.2 Lack of activity / failure to fulfill obligations.

13.3 Immediately when one of the parties becomes aware of any actual violation of this agreement.

13.4 If one of the parties goes bankrupt or is handed over to a receiver or an administrator is appointed for him, or for a part of him.

13.5 If one of the parties ceases to conduct its business fully or partially.

13.6 In the event of the termination of this agreement, through notice, lack of activity/failure to fulfill an obligation or in any other way, the IQC certificate will be invalid, and the customer will cease to use it and undertakes to return it to IQC within 14 days from the date of the written demand from the organization.

14. Fundamental conditions

14.1 The organization hereby guarantees to IQC - that during the entire period of existence of the agreement it will comply with all the reasonable requirements, laws, rules and regulations necessary to receive and preserve the certificate.

For the GlobalG.A.P. standard (and/or its add-ons), the organization undertakes to comply with the provisions of the Sub-License Agreement (SLCA) it has signed with IQC.

14.2 The organization hereby undertakes that all documents provided to IQC for the purposes of this agreement are accurate.

14.3 The organization hereby undertakes for all QMS standards to allow IQC to perform audits when required at a short notice or unannounced.

14.4 The organization undertakes to allow the accreditation body / standard owner of the audited standard to witness the audit or perform a comparative audit when required at short notice or unannounced.

14.5 The organization allows IQC during the audit to review and have access to documents, records and processes in all areas of the organization included in the scope of documentation.

14.6 Certificates and content of FSSC22000 audit reports will be held by IQC.

15. Ownership Ownership of Audit Reports and Certificates

The Client shall hold the rights to the audit report; however, the Certification Body shall retain sole responsibility for the content of the report and the accuracy of the information contained therein.

The Client shall be the holder of the certificate of certification, while the Certification Body shall remain the owner of the certificate and shall bear sole responsibility for its content, issuance, maintenance, amendment, validity, and certification status.16. Warranty

16.1 Except in the case of deliberate negligence on the part of IQC, its employees, auditors or agents, IQC shall not be liable for any loss or damage caused to any person as a result of any omission or error caused in one way or another during the performance of an audit, certification or other action within the framework of IQC services.

16.2 In the case of negligence as stated above, the value of the loss, damage or anything else that IQC is found to be responsible for, will be limited to an amount that does not exceed the maximum payment that IQC charges (if any), for the service in question, in which there was negligence.

16.3 The provision of this section shall not apply to any death or injury, however the inspected organization shall at all times maintain appropriate insurance covering any liability arising from the performance of any action pursuant to this agreement.

17. Compensation

The organization will indemnify IQC against all costs, action claims and demands arising from services provided by IQC except for claims arising from the negligence of IQC, its employees, auditors or agents, for improper use made by the organization of a certificate, license, symbol or approval mark issued by IQC in accordance with this agreement.

18. Force majeure

IQC and/or the organization will not be held responsible in the event that we fail to fulfill our obligations as a result of any factor beyond our control and which could not have been reasonably foreseen in advance.

19. Law

This agreement is subject to Israeli law and the parties accept the legal authority/jurisdiction of the Israeli courts over them, and all notices and procedures will be considered to be properly executed if they are sent by registered mail to the address of the other party, as appears in the contract document between the organization and IQC, or as the other party to be informed later

The maximum reduction in the audit time is 30% and 20% for medical devices from the time stated in each table.

Examples for justification for reducing the audit time may be:

- ☐ product / service without development
- ☐ low risk product
- ☐ simple processes
- ☐ Quality system well implemented
- ☐ Additional standard
- ☐ Outsourced processes
- ☐ more than 30% outside workers
- ☐ working in shifts
- ☐ similar jobs

Justification for adding hours:

- ☐ complicated logistics
- ☐ several languages
- ☐ high risk process / product
- ☐ special unique pars
- ☐ temporary sites
